Abstract:

Immediately following the death of Susy Smith, it was possible to conduct two experiments to see if evidence of consciousness could be obtained. Experiment I involved a single-blind design with an experienced research medium as the Chairperson of the Mediumship Research Committee in the Human Energy Systems Laboratory at the University of Virginia. Experiment II was partially blind and included two new research mediums who were blind to the name and history of the person (Smith). The findings from both experiments provided strong evidence for the continuance of information after death. It is hoped that the publication of these findings will encourage scientists and spiritual leaders to bring Smith's afterlife experiment and the Susy Smith Project to the attention of mediums and students.
