Abstract : This book explores why the world does not react to a crisis that continues year after year. Seasonal hunger is caused by annual cycles of shr...

stocks, rising prices and lack of income. This hidden hunger pushes millions the brink of starvation, permanently stunting their development, weakening systems and opening the door for killer diseases. This book documents sea in 3 countries - India, Malawi and Niger - including personal stories and cour which show the magnitude of the problem. It should be required reading fo development professionals - political leaders, officials, those who work in g aid agencies and non-government organizations, academics, researchers, t leaders and others - all who are committed to the fight against poverty.
