Abstract

Dr Robert Smith surveys the history of birth control and sounds a warning for the future of mankind, if the population explosion is allowed to continue unchecked.

He stresses the importance of the role of the general practitioner in the limitation of births.

Sir Theodore Fox describes the work of the Family Planning Association and stresses that, increasingly, this is a specialist service covering all aspects of fertility.

He also feels that the general practitioner has a role in family planning.

 Family Limitation
 The British Family Planning Council has been set up to coordinate the work of the family planning movement and to ensure the most effective use of the resources available to it. It is the first time that the general practitioner has been so fully consulted in the planning of a national family planning campaign.
