 Poultry production.

Author(s) : Card, L. E. ; Nesheim, M. C.

Book : Poultry production. 1972 No.11th edition pp.vii+392pp.

Abstract : This is the 11th edition of a book of which the primary aim is to provide fundamental principles to be observed in any poultry enterprise. Some chapters have been re-written and new statistical data have been incorporated. The book contains a description of the poultry industry in the U.S.A.; this is followed by chapters on poultry biology, breeding, rearing, housing, nutrition, disease, and marketing. Illustrated with the form of black and white photographs, tables and line drawings. Although written with the American industry in mind, those involved with the practical aspects of poultry production in other countries should find something of value in this volume. However, it is the feeling that readers interested in any facet in depth would need to consult the original work.
