Útdráttur: Seeking to shed light on the cryptographic corpus, this thesis is centered around three goals. The thesis (villulegur), henceforth referred to as the corpus, is divided into three parts called Viking Age to the 20th century. The first part regarding the social perceptions of their usage as well as the general context. The second and largest aim of this thesis is to create a formal, organized cipher entries for the Icelandic Post-Medieval Cryptographic Corpus. Finally, emphasizing the names and titles regarding the visual characteristics of the corpus. This thesis ultimately analyzes the conventions found within the corpus and the role of the corpus and influencers of the cryptographic corpus. Í ritgerðinni er leitast við að varpa ljósi á þætti. Í fyrsta lagi er sýnt fram á að hvernig er á þá tuttugustu, og áhersla lögð á að sýna hvernig leturgerða, um notkun þeirra og þróun þeirra. Í öðru lagi – og það er meginmarkmið þessarar yfirformleg villuletur sem finna má í villuletufrá síðari öldum (The Icelandic Cryptographic Corpus) eru greind þau nöfn sem villuletrun er útlitseinkennum letursins og að hvernig er ritgerðinni er því að lokum haldið á lofti notkun orðanna ‘rúnir’ og ‘letur’, sem og leynileturshefðar á Íslandi.
